1. Board Leadership and Company Purpose

Ref 1.D Principle D:

1. Board Leadership and Company Purpose

Ref 1.4 Provision 4: When 20 per cent or more of votes have been cast against the board recommendation for a resolution, the company should explain, when announcing voting results, what actions it intends to take to consult shareholders in order to understand the reasons behind the result. An update on the views received from shareholders and actions taken

2. Division of responsibilities

Ref 2.F	Principle F: The chair leads the board and is responsible for its overall effectiveness in directing the company. They should demonstrate objective judgement throughout their tenure and promote a culture of openness and debate. In addition, the chair facilitates constructive board relations and the effective contribution of all non-executive directors, and ensures that directors receive accurate, timely and clear information. Disclosures: The Chair's role is described in the 'Our Approach to Division of Responsibilities' section on p. 150, with further information in the 'Shareholder and Investor Engagement' section on pp. 144-145. The Chair also discusses his responsibilities on pp. 130-131.
Ref 2.G	Principle G: The board should include an appropriate combination of executive and non-executive (and, in particular, independent non-executive) directors, such that no one individual or small group of individuals dominates the board's decision-making. There should be a clear division of responsibilities between the leadership of the board and the executive leadership of the company's business. Disclosures: The Board is comprised of an appropriate combination of Executive and Non-Executive (including independent Non-Executive) Directors. The composition of the Board is disclosed at pp. 132-135. The role of the independent Non-Executive Directors is disclosed in the 'Our Approach to Division of Responsibilities' section on p.150. The roles of Chair and Chief Executive are separate, with both having distinct and clearly defined responsibilities. This is also disclosed on p. 150.

2. Division of responsibilities

Disclosures:

The Board considers that all of the Non-Executive Directors are independent, in that they are free from any business or other relationships which could materially interfere with or appear to affect the exercise of their judgement. This is confirmed on p. 150.

5. Remuneration

None of the Chair, the Executive Directors, senior management team or the Company Secretary play any part in determining their own remuneration. During the year ended 31 December 2023, both the Chief Executive and the Chair were consulted and invited to attend meetings of the Remuneration Committee, except when their own remuneration was under consideration. In determining remuneration for the year, the Remuneration Committee consulted the Chief Executive, the Chief People Officer and the Group Head of Reward and other senior management as appropriate. The Committee's remuneration consultants during the year, PwC LLP and Meridian

5. Remuneration

Provision 40: When determining executive director remuneration policy and practices, the remuneration committee should address the following: clarity – remuneration arrangements should be transparent and promote effective engagement with shareholders and the workforce; simplicity – remuneration structures should avoid complexity and their rationale and operation should be easy to understand; risk – remuneration arrangements should ensure reputational and other risks from excessive rewards, and behavioural risks that can arise from target-based incentive plans, are identified and mitigated; predictability –
